

Two Day Poppy Sales Will Start Tomorrow

Mrs. F. C. Anderson, Poppy Chairman of the Clemson Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced that preparations are being completed for the observance of Poppy Day here on Saturday, May 20.

Clemson's chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will also participate in this drive by conducting their annual Poppy Sale on tomorrow and Saturday.

On the two days of the sale, the members of A. P. O., under the direction of W. E. Monroe, arts and sciences major of Clemson, and W. F. Marscher, mechanical engineering major of Beaufort, will contact the students and offer them the opportunity of purchasing poppies at a minimum price of ten cents.

Colonel Cookson, Commandant at Clemson, has given permission to the cadets to wear the poppies on their uniforms during the sale. The poppies to be sold, are made by disabled American veterans of both world wars, and money raised in this drive will be used by the auxiliary for the welfare of these veterans.

Contributions are used to bring comfort to disabled veterans in the hospitals. They provide aid for disabled men outside of the hospitals who are having trouble establishing themselves economically. They help care for the children of disabled veterans while the veterans are undergoing hospital treatment and pay wages to the veterans who make the poppies.

Local poppy contributions of last year were used by the Auxiliary, both in the hospitals of the state and for veterans now living in this community. The hospital work included purchase of poppies for 1950; contributions to the Veteran's Insulin Fund and to a special Rehabilitation Fund; and provision of Locker Bags and Christmas cards to be used by the veterans.

The local work consisted of aid to veterans' families of the Clemson community and the establishment of a Medical Shelf for veterans. It also helped to defray the expenses incurred in the bringing of several veterans from the hospital in Columbia to a football game at Clemson last fall.

For the past two years, Clemson has collected more money per capita than any other community in the state.

CLERSON COLLEGE, SOUTH CAROLINA; THURSDAY, MAY 18, 1950

Circulation--6,500

Vol. XLIII, No. 27

McMahan, Chamness Head Blue Key Matriculation Data Told

Registration for the regular nine-weeks' summer term at Clemson will be held on Monday, June 12, 1950. Students may matriculate at any time after 8 a. m. on Monday, June 12. However, matriculation must be completed prior to registration. Regular Clemson students will register according to the table given on page three.

Those students classified as seniors on the second semester student roster have been given priority in registration hours.

Matriculation will be held in the Main Building and registration will be carried on in the gymnasium. The gymnasium will be open for registration from 9:30 a. m. until 12 noon and from 2 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. Students may obtain matriculation cards in the Registrar's Office in the basement of the Main Building and must present the completed matriculation card to the Registrar's Office booth in the Main Building in order to obtain registration material.

The earliest hour which the registration material may be obtained is given in the table below.

Sigma Tau Epsilon To Hold Meeting May 19

Sigma Tau Epsilon, honorary Arts and Sciences scholastic fraternity, will have a combined meeting and outing May 19 at Table Rock State Park.

They will have a steak supper and will bring their wives and dates.

low. It is not necessary, however, that the student obtain the material at that time since the material will be available until registration closes at 4:30 p. m. Classes for the regular nine-weeks' summer term begin on Tuesday, June 13 and for qualified veterans book requisitions will be available in the Registrar's Office beginning Tuesday, June 13.

Students of other colleges and teachers attending either the three-, six-, or nine-weeks' summer term may begin matriculation in the Registrar's Office beginning at 9 a. m.

Cathcart Is Editor Next Year's Directory

Jeff D. McMahan was elected president of the Clemson chapter of the Blue Key Honor Fraternity in a meeting held in the Blue Key room Monday night. McMahan, who is a textile manufacturing senior from Columbia, is a former editor of Taps. He was president of the Council of Club Presidents, and has been a member of Blue Key since his junior year.

William B. Chamness, architecture junior from Bennettsville, was named vice-president of the organization. Chamness is editor of the Tiger, a pledge member of Minarets, and has been active in Blue Key for the past semester.

Howard G. Love, post-graduate from Columbia majoring in architecture, was unanimously voted to be recording secretary and treasurer. Love is news editor of the Tiger, a pledge member of Minarets, and was recently initiated into Blue Key.

John H. Pitts, agronomy senior from Clinton, was named corresponding secretary. Pitts heads the Agrarian staff and is active in many campus functions. H. E. McLeod, agricultural engineering junior from Rembrandt, was voted alumni secretary by the group. He is a member of Tiger Brotherhood and was initiated into Blue Key this semester.

J. Foster Cathcart was elected at this meeting to edit the 1950-51 edition of the Blue Key Directory, a publication which gives names, majors, school addresses, and home addresses of all students at Clemson. Assisting Cathcart in this task will be George Aldous, electrical engineering junior from Naval Base, and R. M. Prince, agricultural engineering sophomore from Lynchburg.

Blue Key Fraternity has as one of its aims promotion of better relations between faculty and students. It also acts as coordinator between Clemson and the University of South Carolina during the annual "Big Thursday" activities in Columbia. The organization has also fostered better relations between Clemson and Furman University at the annual football rivalry between the two schools.

Dean Earle, Prof. Bradley Retire

Bob Prince Vies For Sears Scholarship Foundation Award In Chicago This Week

Robert M. Prince left for Chicago today, accompanied by Professor D. B. Rosencrans, where he will compete for the Sears Roebuck Scholarship Award presentations. Prince is an honor agriculture engineering sophomore from Lynchburg. Mr. Rosencrans is the faculty chairman for the Sears Foundation.

Each year Sears Roebuck Company endows Clemson, as well as 47 other land grant colleges, with $2,000 each to be awarded by competitive examination to twenty underclassmen enrolled in the schools of Agriculture. The student from each school who finishes the year with the highest grade-point-ratio is then written up without identifying either the student or the college. These biographical sketches are then sent to all forty-eight Southern land grant colleges, and ten men are selected to represent this section in the finals, held this year in Chicago.

The finals will consist of examination and interviews by an impartial board of judges composed of various chairmen of the Sears Roebuck Scholarship Foundation. Three men will receive prizes, the first of which will be $500. Duplicate prizes of $250 will be awarded, one to a man from each side of the Mississippi River.

Prince is the first Clemson man in eight years to receive this honor and all of his and Professor Rosencrans' expenses for the trip will be paid by Sears.

Aldous Will Head Engineering Frat

George C. Aldous, electrical engineering major of Naval Base, was elected president of the local chapter of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, at a meeting held on May 4.

Other officers elected were Alan B. Killingsworth, electrical engineering major of Aiken, as vice-president; Jack C. Ferguson, electrical engineering major of West Asheville, N. C., as corresponding secretary.

William C. Denson of Orlando, Florida, was elected recording secretary and Jack H. Dunn of North Augusta will serve as treasurer.

Howard E. Herd, electrical engineering major of Sharon, was elected to membership. He will be initiated next fall when other new members will be elected.

The prime requisite for the election of students to Tau Beta Pi is that they be in the upper fifth of their class scholastically.

Aldous will represent the Clemson chapter in the national convention next fall and Killingsworth will act as alternate delegate.

Retiring President Sam L. Pettit, civil engineering major of Pauline, was given a rising vote of applause for his service to the fraternity.

Boykin Receives Graduate Award

William B. S. Boykin, agronomy senior of Boykin, was awarded a scholarship for graduate study during next year by the General Education Board. He was one of twenty-five seniors selected from institutions in the South to pursue graduate work in preparation for an academic career.

The scholarship award provides tuition, certain required fees, transportation to and from a place of study and a subsistence allowance of nine $125 installments. Boykin will attend the University of Wisconsin.

'A' Students Named On Scholarship Day

Eleven students made grades of "A" on every subject taken last semester, and they received recognition in the annual Scholarship Recognition Bulletin. The honor students are Leonard Allen, vocational ag education freshman of Kings Creek; Walter Cassidy, textile engineering sophomore of Hartsville; John Cook, electrical engineering freshman of Seneca; and Forrest Cookson, Jr., arts and sciences freshman of Clemson.

Also Richard Hart, mechanical engineering senior of Tournapull, Ga.; George Mobley, textile engineering sophomore of Simpsonville; Neil Montone, a graduate in electrical engineering in February of Westminster; Edmund Newton, electrical engineering sophomore of Chester; Michael Russo, chemical engineering graduate in February of New York, N. Y.; Arthur Schaufelberger, arts and sciences senior of East Islip, N. Y.; and Willis B. Wright, agricultural sophomore of Fair Bluff, N. C.

These men were also recognized at the Scholarship Day ceremonies held recently in the College Chapel.

St. Hubert, Osborne Honored By Newman

Clemson's chapter of the Newman Club, Catholic students' organization, held its second annual banquet and dance Saturday, May 6 at six o'clock. Featured at the banquet were awards presented to Professor R. L. St. Hubert, of the Architectural Department and Mr. E. L. B. Osborne, director of the Clemson News Bureau.

An honor key was awarded to Mr. St. Hubert in appreciation of his service to the college. Professor and Mrs. St. Hubert have completed and presented to the school two fescos during their stay here.

Mr. Osborne was nominated for membership in the John Henry Newman Society. This society is composed of outstanding college alumni who were former members of the Newman Club.

Kirby, Morrah Are To Co-Edit Bobbin & Beaker

Marion Kirby, textile manufacturing senior of Laurens and Sam Morrah, textile manufacturing junior of Greensboro, N. C., were recently appointed from the junior staff of Bobbin and Keaker to co-edit the publication during the 1950-51 school year, according to an announcement by B. K. Sutton, editor of Bobbin and Beaker.

As has been the custom in the past, these men will appoint the remainder of the staff sometime in the early fall. Anyone who is a textile student and a member of the junior or senior class is eligible for membership on the staff. Those interested in obtaining a position on the 1950-1951 staff should contact either of these men at the earliest opportunity.

The Bobbin and Beaker will make its final appearance of the 1949-1950 year within the next week. This issue has been dedicated to the tenth anniversary which is now being observed. There are historical articles pertaining to both the publication and to the textile school which have involved a great deal of research on the part of several staff members.

One outstanding feature of this issue is a pictorial essay of the textile school which sets a precedent in both size and number of pictures appearing in a single issue of The Bobbin and Beaker. In addition to this, the issue is larger than any of its predecessors.

Any one desiring a copy of this anniversary issue may obtain one free of charge by addressing a request to P. O. Drawer 552, Clemson South Carolina.

Tiger Music Albums To Be Sold Next Week

Record albums of recordings made by the Clemson College Band and Glee Club will be on sale all next week. Arrangements for purchase may be made through any band or glee club member. There will be a sales booth open at the Juice Shop behind the Main Building.

The records will bear the RCA Victor label and the inside covers will contain pictures of both organizations and campus scenes. 500 copies of the album have been ordered.

New Alma Mater Be Presented To Alumni

The petition of the proposed Alma Mater circulated by the Tiger Brotherhood will be presented to the alumni at the alumni meeting to be held at Clemson on Saturday, June 3. The petition has passed the vote of the student body and a group of students will present it to the alumni for their consideration. An announcement will be made in the Tiger at the first of next semester concerning the decision of the alumni.

Engine House Head Is Past President

Dr. Samuel B. Earle, dean of the school of engineering and one-time president of Clemson, will retire from his post at the end of this school year.

Dean Earle has been associated with Clemson since he graduated from Cornell in 1902. He was assistant professor of mechanical engineering for one year, as associate professor of mechanical engineering and director of the engineering department from 1903 to 1910.

He also served as director of the engineering department, professor of mechanical engineering, and director of the engineering experiment station from 1910 to 1924, dean of the school of engineering, professor of mechanical engineering, and director of the engineering experiment station from 1933 to date.

During Dr. Riggs' absence in France in 1919, Dean Earle served as acting president of the college and again filled that office from the death of Dr. Riggs in January 1924, until July, 1925, when Dr. Sikes took office.

Dean Earle has been a member of the ASME since 1905. He is a charter member of the Greenville Section and has served as chairman, manager, and vice-president of the section.

Son Of Pitchfork Ben Tillman Dies Here

Benjamin R. Tillman, Jr., 72, son of the famous "Pitchfork Ben" Tillman, who was twice governor of South Carolina, and for 24 continuous years a U. S. Senator, died in his sleep at the Clemson Hotel early yesterday morning.

The spry and keen-witted Mr. Tillman, a graduate of Clemson's first class in 1896, apparently suffered a heart attack. He had been confined to his bed for the past few days.

A retired Department of Justice employee, Mr. Tillman came to Clemson in 1947 to write a biography of his famous father in connection with Clemson.

Interment will be in Ebenezer cemetery at Trenton.

English Head Ends 49 Year Stay Here

Professor M. E. Bradley will retire in June, 1950, as Head of the English Department. He will have ended his forty-ninth year at Clemson.

Mr. Bradley was born and reared in Abbeville County, South Carolina. He attended Abbeville County grade school which has since been changed to the Abbeville High School.

Professor B. F. Bailey prepared Mark Bradley for entrance to the junior class at Erskine College, where he began his collegiate work in September, 1896.

After graduation Mr. Bradley taught for three years in the public schools of Abbeville and Greenwood Counties. In 1901 he was elected assistant in preparatory work at Clemson and began this work at the same time that Professors J. E. Hunter and A. B. Bryan came to Clemson.

In 1906 Mr. Bradley was made assistant professor in English, and became head of the department in 1941. During the latter year he published jointly with Dr. D. W. Daniel a speech text, "Better Speaking," now in use at Clemson as well as elsewhere in the United States.

Deans, Counselors Plan New Program

A meeting of the deans, the committee working on the counseling program to be inaugurated, and the newly appointed counselors meet today.

The meeting will be in the nature of an orientation meeting to discuss plans and procedures for inauguration of the program in September.

A tentative list of counselors has been appointed by the deans. For the School of Agriculture they are W. N. McAdams, A. W. Snell, J. R. Cook, L. M. Bauknight, J. B. Cooper, David Dunavan, O. B. Garrison, W. C. Godley, J. T. Lazar, R. C. Shelley, and J. M. Rush.

In the School of Textiles, W. O. Allen, L. H. Jameson, W. T. Rainey, J. V. Walters, W. B. Williams, H. B. Ilson, C. V. Wray. (Continued on Page 6)

Dr. Cooper Attends Meet With McGinty

Dr. H. P. Cooper, Dean of the School of Agriculture, and Mr. R. A. McGinty, vice-director of the Experiment Station, are in Oklahoma this week. They are participating in a meeting of Southern Experiment Station Directors.

Mr. McGinty is advisor for several projects which will be under discussion at the meeting. The five-day meet began last Monday and will continue through Saturday.

Dr. Cooper and Mr. McGinty are expected back on the campus Monday. The purpose of the meeting is to coordinate experiment stations connected with land-grant colleges.

Sharpen the clippers, drain Reflection Pool, and pay off those bets you lost, for here are the Oscars, those name-calling varlets you've been guessing at for so long. Oscars Ray Alexander and Bill DeLoach say they will be at home to lynch parties around the clock Thursday and Friday.

Everyone Concerned Did Great Junior-Senior Job

The Student Body has earned hearty congratulations for its excellent and gentlemanly conduct over a very happy weekend.

It is lamentable that in the past, on such occasions, the Country Gentlemen have displayed themselves in a light that was more "country" than "gentlemen". This time, however, a different attitude prevailed. There were few, if any, apologies to make to blushing girl-friends for the uncouthness of fellow students. Even the robust and efficient floor committee of the CDA must have enjoyed this one.

While we are thinking about the Central Dance Committee, they should be sincerely congratulated. They were responsible for the bringing of Harry James and his orchestra to the campus and a thousand little details which often go unnoticed.

The Junior CDA was in charge of decorations for the dances, and they must have the satisfaction of seeing a tough job very well done.

The committee of juniors which took on the herculean task of arranging the Junior-Senior Banquet has our vote of confidence on their splendid handling of what was the largest function of its kind ever to be held on this campus. The speaking was appropriately short-winded and the service was quietly efficient. The powers that be in the Mess Hall are also to be lauded for their very good bill of fare.

The Military was, as usual, the big attraction. They put on their mammoth, entertaining show, and drew a perspiring crowd of some ten thousand "arm-chair first sergeants". The concert band played well to a capacity crowd in the chapel just before the parade Sunday afternoon.

Without qualification it was a great week-end.

At Small Dances People Dance; One Big Affair Is Plenty

In connection with future dances on the campus we would like to offer a suggestion.

It is no secret that a great deal of money was made on the recent dance. This would seem to indicate that if top-flight bands were scheduled for all of the dances that money could be made, or as we would like to see it, the dances, and consequently the week-ends, be made cheaper.

We would like to go on record as saying that more than one, or at the most two, such dances would be objectionable. Although the week-end was a colossal success, and the dances were most enjoyable, they could have been improved upon by eliminating about 45 per cent of the dancers.

Floor space was at a costly premium, and at best dancing was extremely difficult. Our field house simply cannot comfortably accommodate the huge number of customers that were present Friday and Saturday nights. Fortunately many would-be waltzers were content to stand and watch.

Our suggestion would be to have a really big name orchestra for the first big week-end of next year, say Homecoming, and then struggle along with lesser names for the balance of the season. This plan has some few possibilities.

Suppose, for instance, that Harry James had come for the Homecoming dances this year and the arbitrary amount of $4,500 was made clear profit. Then the dance committee could afford to take a big loss on the remainder of the affairs. If however, the books showed a black figure at the end of the year we could have a closed dance and comfortably dance to the music of a band of the caliber of the James band.

With this thought and a sincere wish for a happy summer for all, we put the Tiger to bed until September.

Military Activities Successful; Club Works On Honor; Au Revoir

By HARRY DUKES

Sunday Movies

Spending a Sunday afternoon at Clemson is almost as dull as one of the recent Clemson-Furman baseball games which I witnessed. It's always the same old thing. Either listening to the radio, sleeping, or (heavens forbid) studying, seems to be the only way to while away a listless number of hours. Not very many students can force themselves to participate in the latter activity, no matter how hard they try.

Some method to relieve this dull afternoon is needed, so why not Sunday movies? That would be perhaps the most entertaining method of alleviating such a situation. Now I am not so naïve as to believe that everyone will agree with me. Some will be drastically opposed, but I will venture to say that 90 per cent of the student body and many faculty members will see nothing morally wrong with such an idea.

A great number of students attend Vespers just to see the movies that are shown before and after the services, and that is just one example of what Sunday movies can do to provide a more enjoyable afternoon. The movies could be started in the middle of the afternoon so that they will not interfere with church services or afternoon Vespers. Only one showing would be necessary. There is nothing morally wrong with this that I can see.

I would like to uncover some reactions to this proposal. The YMCA could sponsor these movies just as they do during the week. It would cause very little work for any one person, unless it would be the projectionist, and I am certain that he would be paid for the few hours of labor. Show any type of movies that are available—even old Charlie Chaplin silents. It wouldn't make any difference. It's just something to do.

The Greenville highway is always full of Clemson men on Sunday afternoon who are traveling to that fair city for only one purpose—to attend a movie. Here too is another argument for campus movies to be shown on Sunday. Why should they risk life and limb on that "Man-killing" road just to while away a few miserable hours?

I've heard comments that the Y doesn't get good movies because attendance doesn't warrant them. Why couldn't an especially good movie be shown on Sunday afternoon? I understand that petitions were placed in the theaters in Greenville to get the general consensus of opinion of the general public.

Approximately fifteen thousand people signed these petitions in favor of legalizing Sunday movies.

What is the consensus of opinion of the students and residents of Clemson? I am convinced that movies are the best solution to the problem. What other suggestions are available? Boscobel, perhaps, but that consumes too much energy and it too is off the campus. Not every student has a car here at school, and it is not simple to "bum" rides all the time. Why can't we deal with our own problem? Entertainment on the campus is the only solution. Contradicting one of my previous statements, I should like to say that maybe more than one showing of the movies should be made. I'm certain that a crowd could come.

If the Y is not interested, and I do not know whether they are or not, the theater down town would probably lend a sympathetic ear.

Organization Needed to Help Cheerleaders

A suggestion was offered recently by the cheerleaders that Clemson students participate in football "card pictures". This plan was discussed at a convention of cheerleaders in Florida, and instructions in making colored pictures, which I know most of you have seen in newsreels, was given. The way this is done is to let each student have a number of colored cards. The cards would be placed under each seat in the student section, and the cheerleaders would tell each row what cards to hold in the air and at what time. Any person, whether a student or not, could participate in the making of pictures of Tigers slaying gamecocks (what a horrible word), a replica of the American flag, and various other pictures.

Plans have been made to borrow cards from the University of Georgia to use at our first football game. Some organization must handle this project. The cheerleaders will not have time to contact every one about it. It is a very simple trick to do and I have heard rumors that Carolina has really gone in for a similar project in a large way.

That means that they might outdo us (in the card tricks only) at the Clemson-Carolina game next year. We can't let them get ahead on this. Why doesn't some organization like IPOAY aid with the project? They are in close contact with the cadets and veterans, and could express the idea much better than I can.

Betty Boy and Nell DeLoach from Spartanburg and Hampton were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Godley of Jersey Lane.

Anne Duvall of Berkshire Road entertained her mother-in-law, Mrs. Duvall, with a lovely drop-in Saturday afternoon at her mother's home, Mrs. I. A. Trivley of 105 Ridgcrest.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howle were recent visitors of their son and daughter-in-law, Venie and Betsy Howle of "E" Street.

Several friends of Ken and Mary Morricks and Ed and Betty Barrineau enjoyed a party given by them on Woodridge Avenue before the Junior-Senior last Friday night.

A few Columbians who enjoyed Clemson's week-end festivities are Roy and DeLacy Lind, Mary Lide, and Marnie Manning.

Some York week-end guests were Mrs. T. M. Ferguson, Jane Ferguson, Harriett Lowry, Lettie Harper "Miss Winthrop", Mrs. W. S. Moore, Bill Moore and Mrs. Henning Adickes and Clark and Al Adickes.

Claire and Dick James of 24

Newman Circle have had as their father, Mr. Harry Murray of Washington, D. C. Mr. Murray is a scout for the American League Baseball Club of Chicago, Illinois.

Lib and Frazier Sofge spent Mother's Day week-end with their parents in Aiken.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huff of Greenville stayed with Charles and Helen Huff of Jersey Lane several days.

We are delighted to see that Prof. Charles McGee has a new mode of transportation.

Columnist Advocates Sunday Movies; Cheerleaders Need Organized Help

By HASSELL A. SIMPSON

Clemson's biggest military shindig of the year is over now, and from all indications, the Mother's Day festivities and the annual Federal Inspection should put us in line for top rating by the inspectors.

The members of the inspection team, I understand, were so impressed by the appearance of the corps on Mother's Day that they saw no reason for another review on the following Tuesday. And from my position in the rear ranks, the drill on Tuesday came off almost without a flaw.

I have no idea what the inspectors thought of the military classes which they visited, but the barracks and individual personnel were at their sharpest. Every department, organization and military unit apparently cooperated to the fullest degree, and, to the last man, they are to be congratulated. Activities such as these should show as much school spirit in a competitive way as do the athletic events in which we take so much pride.

It's all over; whether or not Clemson receives top honors remains to be seen, but at least we know that the inspection team saw us at our best.

KEEP IT IN MIND

The only honor system that will be in force during the coming exams will be that of the students who would be honest anyway. All previous efforts notwithstanding, no definite provision for the other men, who represent a large majority, has as yet been made. This was, to some extent, to be expected. Opponents of such a plan and those who are merely indifferent to it have been successful in delaying action in past years.

OSCAR DeLOACH SAYS:

he (Oscar) hopes his exposure doesn't cause him (Oscar) to lose any of his "beautiful" friendships—especially in the military, 'cause he (Oscar) just loves "brass."

The Veterans College Librarian's Poem Included In Anthology

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration on four questions of interest to former servicemen and their dependents:

Q. My son, a World War I disabled veteran, is going blind and has to be led around by relatives or friends. Is he eligible to receive a seeing-eye dog?

A. If your son is entitled to compensation because of a service-connected disability, VA may furnish him with a seeing-eye dog and will pay the expense of training your son in the use of the dog. It is not necessary that the blindness result from the compensable disability.

Q. I converted my National Service Life Insurance some time ago and would like to know if I can borrow money from my bank or loan company and use my NSLI as security for the loan?

A. You cannot use your NSLI policy as security, but you can borrow up to 94 per cent of its cash value from VA.

Q. My brother, a World War II veteran, passed away recently while separated from his wife. Who is entitled to the flag used to drape his casket; his mother or his widow?

A. In most states, the widow would be entitled unless she waives her right.

Q. In seeking a widow's pension, why is it necessary for me to prove the dissolution of prior Sidelle Ellis, college reference librarian, is the author of a poem published in a recent book.

Her poem appeared in the 1950 edition of the National Poetry Anthology published by the National Poetry Association.

This is the second year such an anthology has been published and is a limited edition, with only 1,500 copies being printed.

Miss Ellis took her B. S. in voice at Winthrop College in 1928 and then did work in Library Science at Peabody College. Since then she has also done summer work at the University of Wisconsin, Winthrop, and University of South Carolina. She taught in South Carolina schools for nineteen years also.

The poems appearing in this anthology are the work of teachers and librarians throughout the marriage of my late husband who served in the army during World War I?

A. Death compensation or pension is payable only to the legal widow of the veteran. The dissolution of all prior marriages is essential in order to prove validity of your marriage to the veteran.

country. Approximately 7,100 manuscripts were submitted this year for consideration. About 450 authors are represented in this year's edition. Each contributor was limited to one page.

Miss Ellis said she entered a contest in response to a bulletin posted in the library. She submitted several poems and "A CAT" was selected for use.

Following is a copy of the poem as it appears in the book:

A CAT
Wisdom is a cat.
Always curious;
Walks on cushioned-feet
Seeks selector's seat.

Longing to love.
Always trusting truth
To sow seeds in earth—
Knowledge is rebirth.

Purring as in peace.
Alert for a catch
Stretching to go way;
Returning any day.

Crouching on shoulder.
Luring the mind
Truth stirs eons' pages

Parade Honors Mothers At Clemson

As Clemson honored Mother of the Year—Here are some of the top personalities participating in annual Mother's Day program which attracted 10,000 to Clemson Sunday afternoon. Left to right: Cadet Col. Albert H. Peters, Jr., of Summerville, regimental commander; Miss Shirley Patton of Furman and St. George, honorary cadet colonel who reviewed the Cadet Corps; Bill Darby of Ft. Motte, president of the Tiger Brotherhood; and Mrs. M. E. Dyess of Augusta, Ga., Clemson's 1950 "Mother of the Year."

Easley Cadet Winner Of Medal

The picture above shows Mrs. Dyess pinning a medal on Cadet Captain Bennett B. Smith of Easley, as commander of the best company in the Clemson Regiment. Military personnel looking on included Col. Cookson, Clemson commandant; Sgt. Jim Lorens, Lt. Col. Smith, and Major T. K. Myers. Cadet Captain Smith is commander of Company A, Third Battalion.

Cadet Sgt. Coy H. Gray of Anderson receives the R. W. Simpson Medal as the best drilled cadet at Clemson College excluding members of the Senior Class. Dr. R. F. Poole, Clemson president, bestows the award at Mother's Day exercises on the campus Sunday afternoon.

SCIENTIFIC TESTS PROVE LUCKY STRIKE Milder THAN ANY OTHER PRINCIPAL BRAND!

Confirming these scientific tests, an independent consulting laboratory with more than 15 years' experience in cigarette research reports: "Lucky Strike mildest of 6 major brands tested."

Yes, Luckies are milder... proven milder! And here's one good reason why:

Lucky Strike means fine tobacco—fine, light, naturally mild tobacco that gives you real deep-down smoking enjoyment—yes, the smooth, rich taste of fine tobacco. Prove to yourself what science has proved. Get a carton of Luckies today!

Tigs Blast Carolina To Tie For Division Lead

The Citadel Went Down As Expected

Clemson's "cracker-jack nine" eased up considerably against the hapless Citadel Bulldogs, but still managed to take the two game series and make a clean sweep of all games played with the cadets.

Coach Cox's boys didn't exert themselves either day, however, there were too many signs of over-confidence. Of course, being a team with snap, the Tigers have play a team on a high school or junior college level they get rather bored with opposition on that strata. It's getting to the point where it's practically an automatic victory whenever we play any team in any sport from the "soldier boys".

Golfers Sweep State Tournament

The Tiger linksmen performed in fine style as they copped South Carolina's fourth annual Intercollegiate golf tournament. Clemson won the team championship with a total score of 603; Citadel placed second with a 623 score.

Billy Delk upset the apple cart by thumping last year's champion, Bob Thoren of U. S. C., 4 and 3. Billy also dropped Carolina's Dial 3-2, Cobb of The Citadel, and tourney medalist Charles Smith, also of The Citadel. Delk's superb performance on the links certainly brought credit to the school as well as to himself.

Diamondmen Blast Gamecocks

Monday's game with the "Chickens" from Columbia was undoubtedly the most exciting tilt I've witnessed this season. Clemson's great hitting power was the difference in the two clubs. The Tiger outfield of Knoebel, Mathews, and Angley, really poured it on the 'Cocks. Of course, the fine clutch of Ken Culberson in the eleventh was the high point of the contest. "The Troops" really turned out in force to back up their Tiger team. The spirit shown was terrific and it evidently had a demoralizing effect on Coach Petoskey's "unfortunates."

Of course, pitcher Camp did pitch all of Monday's game, didn't he!

Carolina used up all their energy and fight in Monday's tilt. Tuesday's slaughter was the end of a great season for the power-laden Tigers. Clemson's power hitting, and great base running was just too much for Carolina's fading 'Cocks. The Gamecocks handled themselves poorly in the field, and their obvious lack of pitching talent cost them the crushing defeat in Tuesday's contest. Rhame's catching was the most pitiful exhibition of college backstopping seen at Tigertown this season. Hurler Jones was really a wide-awake kid, too!

The Bengal baseballers have just completed their best regular season since the great team of '47. Coach Cox's lads, came up with 19 triumphs in 26 outings for a splendid seasonal record. No team was able to trip the Tigs more than once, and the Tigs were never defeated two games straight. Clemson averaged about 10.6 runs per game, while their opponents were getting 6.9 runs per tilt. The Tigs have the highest number of runs per contest in the Southern Conference. In other words, what the Bengals miss in the field they make up for when they're at bat.

Wake Forest will probably furnish the next opposition for the Tig diamondmen if the playoff series comes off. However, with exams coming up it will make it awfully tough on the team if they hav to go up to Laurinburg next week. The fact is Petoskey anticipated just a little too much when he picked Laurinburg as a site for the playoffs.

Southern Con. Meet Final Go For Thinclads

Clemson's cindermen didn't fair so well in last week's annual South Carolina Intercollegiate Track Meet. The Tigs finished just behind Carolina for the championship. Despite the fact that they didn't win the State title doesn't exclude them from coming up with a few firsts in the S. C. meet in Chapel Hill tomorrow and Saturday.

The one and two mile runs, 120 yard high hurdles, and the shotput, are the four events in which the Bengal trackers have a good chance to bring home some bacon. Four first places would certainly put them in the upper bracket.

In the two mile run the Tigs have A. S. Mc Kay, State champion in that event for this year. McKay won all his duel meet competition this season and took first place at Clinton last Saturday with a 10:22.6 two mile. This was by far the best time run in the State this year and it compares favorably with Magill of North Carolina who won the Conference two mile title last year. Bob Rayle should make a fine showing in the mile. Bob ran his best race of the year last Saturday by running a blistering 4:34.2 mile and taking the State crown. If he improves on, or duplicates last week's performance, he's certain to place in the event. "Bummy" Townsend, who is rather tough luck this year on the cinders, could be the man to break the tape first in the 120 yard high hurdles. Townsend's major competitor in that event is U. N. C.'s sensational one man track team, Bill Albans. A win over Albans would indeed be a feather in "Bummy's" hat. Last year neither Townsend nor Albans competed in the Conference meet due to injuries. "Heavy" Rolshouser is the fourth Tiger who has an excellent chance of "placing in the money." "Heavy" placed second in the North Carolina Relays this spring, however, the competition may be even stiffer this Saturday. Both North Carolina and Maryland have ben who have beaten Rolshouser's best distances by two or three feet, but don't count "Heavy" out; he still has enough stuff to pace the field.

Good-Bye 'Til Next Fall

Well, this is it, for this year. The Tigers have had their ups and downs this year, but all in all, they've had a fairly successful year. Next football season looks very promising from here. Don't quote me, but we may very well come up with some seven or eight victories on the gridiron next fall, and I sure hope Missouri and Carolina are two of 'em.

Culberson's Eleventh Inning Single Gains Play-Off Berth For Bengal Nine

The never-say-die Clemson Tigers won the right to play the leading Conference team of North Carolina for the Southern Division chairmanship last Monday as they edged past Carolina's Gamecocks 8-7 in an eleven-inning struggle. The game was tied three times, but the Bengals broke the final deadlock in the bottom of the eleventh frame, as shortstop Ken Culberson came through with a clutch single to left. The hit was the Bengal's second of the inning and drove home Bob Hughes from third with the winning marker. Hughes had replaced starter Bill Ford on the mound for the Tigers in the top of the sixth stanza with two out and five runs in. "Birdog" held the Birds to a single run on four hits in gaining credit for his fifth victory. He has yet to be defeated.

Jackie Calvert Is One Of Five Football Capts.

Both Ford and Camp, the Carolina starter, pitched well. It was not until the fourth inning that either team threatened seriously. In the top of the frame, Sykes and Szakasci drew free passes. After Phillips struck out, Kincaid singled to left, and Sykes, trying to score from second, was out on a beautiful throw from left fielder Knoebel. After this Gamecock threat was halted, Clemson came back to score the first run of the contest on Ray Mathews' home run in the bottom of the same canto.

Hendley's four master highlighted a two-run fifth inning for the Tigers, as the Bengals broke a 1-1 deadlock. Then in the top of the sixth, Carolina routed Ford by collecting five runs on four hits. It was in this frame that Bob Hughes made his appearance to halt the Bird's rally. During his five and two-thirds inning stint, Ford retired six men via the strike-out route.

In the lucky seventh frame, Clemson tied up the game once more as Bob Hughes led off with a clean single to left. Knoebel beat out a hit to the pitcher, and a walk to Mathews loaded the sacks. Hughes crossed the plate on Angley's long fly to right at Knoebel went to third. Mathews then stole second while Culberson was striking out. Deanehardt's double to left drove home the tying markers. Then in the top of the ninth, the Birds took a one run lead on a single, a sacrifice, and another safety. So for Clemson in the bottom of the ninth it was to be then or never. The first batter to face the still-strong Camp was "Knobby" Knoebel, who promptly greeted the Gamecock righthander with a 425-foot home run over the centerfield fence.

The winning run came with two out in the bottom of the eleventh frame. Hendley led off with a single to left. Hughes reached first safely when his sacrifice attempt was converted into a force play at second. Knoebel drew a free pass, and after Mathews was retired on a fly to center, Angley was safe on Mitchell's error. Then Culberson delivered his game winning blow to assure the Tigers of a play-off berth for the Southern Division championship. Hendley, Knoebel, and Mathews all clouted home runs for the Bengals, and the Tiger catcher also connected for a pair of singles to aid the Tiger cause.

Prior to Jack's coming to Clemson, he attended Spartanburg High School. Here he participated in these major sports: football, baseball, and basketball. The latter sport, basketball, brought him All-State honors in '46 and '47. He also captained his basketball team in these two years.

The "Kid", as he is oftentimes called, came to Clemson in the fall of '47. He states: "Clemson was my choice of schools for many years. I also believe it is an excellent place to get an education."

Thus far, Jack has proved himself very valuable to Howard's football machinery. Covington McMillan, Tiger backfield coach, states: "Jack is one of the easiest boys to get along with and to work with on the team." "He is also one of the best deceptive runners at Clemson, and ranks in a class with "Booby" Payne and "Banks" McFadden, All-American of 1939."

Other sports for Jack at Clemson have been basketball and track. We might also add that Jack's brother, Jim, is also a member of the Tiger football team.

So, Jack Calvert, to all your football endeavors for next fall, we wish you all the success possible!

To the "Athlete of the Week," chosen by the Chesterfield representatives, George Facchin and Harry Dukes, an award of a carton of Chesterfields will be made. These Chesterfields are given through the courtesy of the Campus Merchandising Bureau of New York. This week the award goes to Jack Calvert.

Knobel, Angley, Ford Lead Mates

The Clemson Tiger baseball club exploded Tuesday to blast the Carolina Gamecocks 18-9 to give an exhibition of hitting that is rarely seen against supposedly first class college competition. Doug Angley paced the hitting for both teams as he collected four hits in six trips to the plate. Knobby Knoebel put on a one-man show as he stole a total of four bases being day, one of the steals being home. The Tigers scored in every inning to outclass the Gamecocks throughout the entire tilt, and were headed

Kea started for the hard hitting Tigers, but he began to falter in the top of the fifth, and Coach Cox called on Bill Ford to take over. This seemed odd at first in that Bill Ford had to receive relief in the game against the Birds the previous day, but he immediately began to put the Gamecocks down in order. The Gamecocks were able to score only 2 runs off him in the last 5 and one-half innings. Ford also struck out Camp for the final out in the top of the ninth to prove that he was not tiring in the least from the two days consecutive work.

The Tigers hopped on every pitcher that the Gamecocks were able to offer, as shown when they tallied in every inning. Bob Shearer started on the mound for the South Carolinians but he soon found the Tigers were hitting everything that he was able to offer. Jones relieved him only to be greeted with a barrage of hits and runs to last for only a very brief period. This time Camp relieved Jones and he was allowed to finish the tilt, but he was also unlucky in that he was hard hit in the two innings that he worked.

Ken Culberson was playing with a hurt hand and he was not able to play the caliber of ball that he is capable. His hitting was the only thing that was suffering as he still turned in a fine exhibition of fielding.

So, Jack Calvert, to all your football endeavors for next fall, we wish you all the success possible!

Delk Upsets Thoren To Capture State Golf Title

Sportfacts in Focus

By CHARLES MEIBURG

In the last few outings of the 1950 edition of the Clemson Tiger, the Bengals have thrown a scare into their supporters. Friday, against The Citadel, Hugh Kea was hit quite hard by the Bulldog batters before being relieved by Hardin Joyce. Actually the cadets never came closer than six runs to tying the hard-hitting Tigers; however, one or two more hits in crucial spots could have given the Bulldogs a win over the Tigers. The next day, "Nig" Griffith allowed eight runs in the second inning before being relieved. The Bengal batters had a hard road to climb to tie the men from Charleston, but once again they came back to tie the game up in the sixth frame. Then in the eighth stanza, the Tigers scored the winning run on an error by the Bulldog catcher after speedy "Knobby" Knoebel had stolen third.

However, the closest call of the season came on Monday when it took the Bengals eleven innings to down the stubborn Carolina Gamecocks. The game was tied up three times during the eleven frames, and it remained for the Tigers to break a 7-7 deadlock to win their twelfth Conference game of the season. The victory assured the Bengals of a play-off berth for the Southern Division championship. The next day Carolina, with all hopes gone, played one of the sorriest games seen by the local fans. There was nothing close during the entire game after the Birds had scored three times in the initial frame. Bill Ford, who started Monday's game for the Bengals, turned in a fine relief job to save the tilt for Hugh Kea, Clemson starter.

RELIEF PITCHING SAVES GAMES

While Clemson does not have a Joe Page or Ted Wilks to do their relief work, those Tiger hurlers who are relieving the weakening starters are saving and winning many games for the Tigers. The last two series illustrated this point for it took two hurlers in each tilt to insure victory. Friday against The Citadel, it was Kea starting, but when the Bulldogs got within six runs of the Tigers, Jayce went in to retire the Bulldogs and save the game for Kea. It was Griffith and Baker against The Citadel on Saturday with Rog Baker coming on in the second frame to take the win. Then Monday, Bob Hughes relieved Bill Ford in the sixth stanza, and in eleven innings, "Birdog" copped his fifth win of the year. Tuesday Bill Ford came back, and when "Hootie" Kea weakened in the fourth, the promising Tiger lefty entered the game to hold the Birds in check and keep the win for Kea.

BOB HUGHES' STARTER AND RELIEF ARTIST

Last year Bob Hughes, a southpaw, was the ace of a weak Tiger mound staff. After a slow start this year because of an illness, "Birdog" once again is one of the top Tiger hurlers. His last two appearances have been in relief, and each time the Bengal portside has throttled the opponents. Monday, Bob crossed the platter in the eleventh frame with the winning marker as he received credit for his fifth victory of the season as against no losses. In going five and one-third innings against the Gamecocks, "Birdog" allowed only one run and gave up but four safeties, failing to issue a single walk. Since getting started, Bob has shown his ability to come through with some fine clutch pitching, which will be a great help for the forthcoming proposed play-offs.

ANGLEY, MATHEWS, CULBERSON, KNOEBEL ALL-CONFERENCE?

All of you Clemson fans realize the abilities of the present Tiger baseballers. It is one of the hardest-hitting teams ever assembled in the history of the Southern Conference. Leading the team in batting is Doug Angley, a lefthanded hitter, with a mark somewhere in the vicinity of .435. Angley is the regular Tiger right-fielder and along with his speed, possesses one of the strongest arms in the Conference. Ray Mathews, the centerfielder, also possesses a strong throwing arm, and the righthanded batter should once again be selected to the All-Conference team. Mathews has hit four or five home runs, three in one game, not to mention his capabilities as a fielder. To complete the All-Conference outer gardens should be one of the fastest men ever to wear a Tiger uniform. He is Fred "Knobby" Knoebel, who bats in the orthodox manner. The speedy Bengal leftfielder has pilfered over thirty (30) bases this spring, including home twice. Another member of the Tiger baseball team that has a chance of making the mythical nine, is team captain Ken Culberson, the righthanded hitting shortstop who is leading the Bengals in the RBI department. The long ball hitting clean-up batter has connected for six home runs and various other extra base blows.

PLAY-OFFS STILL UNCERTAIN

At the time the Tiger goes to press, the cloudiness surrounding the Southern Division play-offs has yet to clear up. It seems that the chairman of the lower loop, Ted Petoskey of South Carolina, doesn't know what is coming off.

Clemson's two wins over the Gamecocks this week give the Bengals a 13-3 Conference record. Wake Forest must win their game with N. C. State this Saturday to tie Clemson for the Southern Division percentage leadership. However, no team in the Conference can better that mark, so the play-offs cannot be arranged so as to favor one team other than Clemson.

Linksmen In Team Championship With A 603 Score; Citadel Finishes Second

Clemson's top rate golfers paced the field in the first round in the state meet last Wednesday by winning the team championship with a total score of 603 points followed by The Citadel with 623. Citadel's Bill Smith fired the hottest score with a high 145 in the qualifying round, thus establishing himself as the favorite to win the meet.

On the second round Burns and Delk of Clemson defeated George Dial of Carolina and Ed Moss of Wofford respectively. They were the only candidates still in the running for the Tigers. Medalist Charles Smith of The Citadel again won as he defeated Bill Alexander of Clemson, 5-3, this made him even more favored to walk away with the meet.

On the third round, semifinals, of the fourth annual South Carolina Intercollegiate Golf Tournament, Bill Delk upset Medalist Smith, 2-1, to surprise everyone and establish himself as the favorite. Also Bob Thoren, the 1949 champ, eliminated Bill Quick of Wofford to move into the finals as the opponent of Billy Delk.

In the final round, Billy Delk who hails from Greenville, turned back Bob Thoren of the University of South Carolina, 4 to 3, to take the state meet. Delk was never behind in the championship match, as he was one up on his foe at the end of the first 18 in the morning, and in the afternoon he clinched the title with a birdie on the 15th.

Citadel Edged By Tiger Nine 12-11

An unearned run scored in the bottom of the eighth frame provided Clemson with the winning marker as the Tigers won their eleventh Southern Conference game of the year from The Citadel, 12-11. The speedy legs of "Knobby" Knoebel and Ray Mathews aided the Bengal cause as Knoebel stole two bases and came home on the catcher's error with the winning run, and Mathews made two sparkling catches in crucial points of the game. "Nig" Griffith started on the mound for the Tigers but had to be relieved in the second when Roger Baker came on.

After the Bengals had chalked up a single tally in the initial canto, the Bulldogs came back strong and scored eight times in a wild second inning. Aided by several Tiger fielding miscues and six hits, The Citadel quickly built up a seven run lead. All eight runs were credited to Griffith before Baker could come on to put out the fire. The Tigers fought back gradually and finally tied the game in the sixth frame on Luke Deanhardt's two run single.

It was not until the eighth inning that either team scored again. So with the score still tied at 11-11, "Knobby" Knoebel drew his fourth walk of the game to lead off the bottom of the frame. The speedy Tiger left fielder promptly stole second and there remained while Mathews was retired and Angley fanned. Then on the 3-1 pitch to Ken Culberson, who had previously struck out three times, Knoebel stole third as the pitch came in for a ball. When Carter, Bulldog catcher, threw wild to third, "Knobby" crossed the plate. (Continued on Page 6)

Cindermen Place 2nd To Carolina In Palmetto Meet

The University of South Carolina's favored track team lived up to its role Saturday in capturing the state meet at Clinton with a score of 58-2 points barely losing the Clemson Tigers who totaled 45 points to come in second. The Gamecocks outclassed all competition in the short dashes, and they also did better in the long distance runs than expected. P. C. gave the Gamecocks the most competition in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, but the Blue Stockings were a little too weak in the field events to give either Carolina or Clemson a close race in total points.

Tommy Woodlee tied the state record in the 100 yard with a fast 9.7; he also won first place in the 220 yard dash. Holshouser, Hudson, and Faccin outclassed the whole field in the shotput as they won 1st, 2nd, 3rd respectively. South Carolina barely nosed out the P. C. relay team and it was only through the 15 yards that Tommy Woodlee had gained on the first lap that they were able to do it. Fleming of P. C. was gaining rapidly on the last lap and he was barely nosed out by a few strides. Bob Rayle again took the mile by running it in 4'34.2", this being the second straight year that he has won this event.

The Clemson Tigers were badly lacking in short distance runners as shown when they did not even place in the 100 or the 220 yard dashes. Bumby Townsend had a bit of hard luck in the 20 high hurdles when he stumbled on one of the hurdles, but he did recover enough to place second.

Mile run — Rayle (Clemson), Stanazek (Citadel), Brown (Presbyterian), Jackson (Clemson). Time 4:34.2".

440 — Fleming (Presbyterian), Thomason (Furman), McKenzie (South Carolina), Seneca (South Carolina). Time 50.1 seconds. Shot — Holshouser (Clemson), Hudson (Clemson), Faccin (Clemson), Horne (Presbyterian). Distance 47' 4".

100-yard dash — Woodlee (South Carolina), McCutcheon (Presbyterian), Drews (South Carolina), Newton (Presbyterian). Time 9.7 seconds. Ties state record set by Bill Hutt of South Carolina in 1934, and equalled yesterday by Woodlee in trials.

Discus — Martin (Presbyterian), Faccin (Clemson), Hudson (Clemson), Varner (Wofford). Distance 134' 1".

120 high hurdles — C. McGill (South Carolina), Townsend (Clemson), Richardson (Clemson), Lanter (Presbyterian). Time 5.4 seconds.

Tig Frosh Run Away With Track Crown For State

Clemson's freshman track team ran away with the state meet held at Clinton Saturday by running up a score of 61 1-2 points, and the only other team able to come anywhere close to this score was Presbyterian with a total of 38 1-2 points. This impressive showing by the Tiger frosh indicated that the varsity track team next year would be well stocked with good men.

There were no individual stars but the team was well balanced in every department and were able to place men in every event.

Gaskins, Mullinix, Woodard, Ferrett, and Froelick were all outstanding as each one of these placed in their departments. The Tiger Baby Bengals did not win but two first places, but they were able to take four second places to run up a score that was by far the best in the state competition. Mullinix heaved the javelin 155' 8 1-2" to take first place in this event, and Woodward ran the 440 in 52.1 seconds to take the only other first place that the frosh garnered in.

Baby Tigs Drop Tilt To Bull Pups

The Georgia freshman baseball team downed the Clemson's freshmen 9-2 behind the six-hit pitching of Jackie Roberts. Roberts was also helped greatly by his teammates who gathered in 15 hits off the Tigers' Marion Thompson.

The Baby Bengals could not get their sights set on the offerings by Roberts as they gathered only six base hits for the evening. The fielding for both teams was a little below, but the Bull-pups from Georgia did not allow but 2 runs to cross the plate while they were over loading the home plate when they found the offerings of Thompson to their liking.

Bobby Brown who hails from Olar, South Carolina, again showed smooth precision in his fielding from the 3rd base position, and thus showed that he would be quite capable of handling this position in the varsity nine in the future. Darling also showed promise from his centerfield position as he got under one long fly after the other to stave off possible hits; his hitting has been consistent in every game also.

Chemical Society Granted Charter

Officers Elected At Meeting Tuesday

American Chemical Society recently granted a charter to student affiliates on the Clemson campus to function as an active chapter of the national organization.

At its first meeting Tuesday night the new organization elected R. W. Duvall, chemistry junior of Cheraw, as chairman; E. D. Steele of Harrisburg, Virginia, as vice-chairman; and I. L. Tomlinack, chemical engineering junior of Windsor Heights, West Virginia, as secretary-treasurer.

Mr. J. H. Hobson, assistant professor of chemistry, was selected as faculty advisor by the group.

In order to obtain membership in the chapter a student must be a second semester sophomore majoring in either chemistry, textile chemistry, or chemical engineering.

The purpose of the society is to afford an opportunity for students majoring in the various fields of chemistry to become better acquainted. It also gives the members experience in presenting technical material before audiences.

The chapter plans to bring chemical experts to the campus next year to speak before the group.

Any students who wish to obtain further information on the organization may do so by contacting any of the society's members.

Wesley Foundation Headed By McLeod

Wesley Foundation, Methodist student organization of Clemson, completed the election of officers at a group meeting held last week. These men will serve during the next school year.

Those elected were: H. E. McLeod, agricultural engineering major of Rembert, as president; D. H. Witt, textile engineering major of Swansboro, as 1st vice-president; J. F. Callahan, electrical engineering major of Atlanta, Ga., as 2nd vice-president; C. M. Johnson, arts and sciences major of Tampa, Florida, as 3rd vice-president.

Also C. M. Upright, mechanical engineering major of Mooresville, N. C., as secretary; H. A. Simpson, arts and sciences major of Gray Court, as treasurer; W. E. Monroe, arts and sciences major of Clemson, publicity.

Others elected were J. Padgett, Jr., pre-med major of Ridgeland on deputations; Clean Fore, to head socials; L. C. Lawson, agricultural major of Darlington, for world service; H. L. Witt, Jr., mechanical engineering major of Swansboro, as the Bible editor. Installation services will be held on Sunday, May 28. The two past presidents will participate in the service and make a report to the congregation on work of the Wesley Foundation. These men are T. L. Monroe, agricultural economics major of Marion; J. E. Walker, pre-med major of Charleston.

Dean Earle

In addition to his ASME activities Dean Earle has served as chairman of the Engineering Section of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities, member of the state wide committee for Trade Recovery, representing the 10th district, member of the committee on National Engineering Council on Unemployment in South Carolina, Fellow of the South Carolina Academy of Science, and a member of the Newcomen Society of England, on the American Branch. He is a member of the Tau Beta Pi and Phi Kappa Phi.

Furman University conferred upon Dean Earle the degrees of A. B., A. M., and LL. D., in 1898, 1899, and 1932, respectively, and Cornell University gave him the degree of Mechanical Engineer in 1902.

Dean Earle's many accomplishments include: the designing of the first power plant, designing of the heat, light, and plumbing of the Y. M. C. A., and installation of the heat, light, water, and sewage on the campus. Dean Earle designed the change of the old agricultural hall into the present library after he had recommended the change to the board of trustees.

Dr. Earle will be retiring with a service record of forty-eight years on the faculty staff at Clemson.

Specialist Exam Application Due

Applications for a training specialist examination in the United States Public Health Department are now being accepted. June 9, 1950, is the deadline set for these applications.

Persons who apply for the Training Specialist examination will not be given a written test. To qualify, they must have (a) completed a college course leading to a bachelor's degree in one of the physical or biological sciences or in engineering; or (b) had four years of technical engineering or physical or biological scientific experience; or (c) had any combination of (a) or (b).

In addition, they must have had professional training experience in one or more appropriate fields. Pertinent graduate study may be substituted for all or part of the experience required, depending on the grade of position.

The positions to be filled, which pay from $3,825 to $7,600 a year, are located at various training stations of the Communicable Disease Center in several states throughout the country.

More detailed information about the examination, as well as applications, may be obtained at most first- and second-class post offices, from civil service regional offices, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

with what proved to be the winning marker.

For Clemson, Angley, with a double and a single, and Aughray, with a home run, a single, and a double, led the stickwork. Mathews contributed two beautiful running catches, and Knoebel added two more stolen bases to his ever increasing number. The win went to reliever Roger Baker, who came on in the second inning. The sophomore right-hander struck out seven Bulldogs and allowed three runs on six hits in the seven and one-third innings he worked.

Local Service Frat Will Sponsor Dance

Alpha Phi Omega, leadership and service fraternity of Clemson will sponsor a square dance to be held in the little gym of the field house on Saturday May 20, at 8:00 p. m.

The price will be 35 cents, with or without dates, and girls from Anderson College will be on hand to participate in the dancing and cake walks.

Proceeds from the dance will be used to finance the cost of sending a local Boy Scout to the National Scout Jamboree, to be held this summer at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

Alpha Phi Omega is composed of men who were, at one time, members of the Boy Scouts of America. This group has rendered many services to the students at Clemson. Next year they plan to finance a $1,000 scholarship for a foreign student to attend Clemson.

Kluttz Combination Will Return To Clemson To Open Modern Steak House Downtown

By Bill Chamness

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kluttz, once familiar figures on the campus, have returned. Mr. Kluttz will resume the business that he engaged himself in two years ago, that of the restaurant trade. He and his wife formerly operated the "Y" Cafeteria.

When Mr. Kluttz left Clemson, in February 1948, he had plans for a tour of the Americas, but he was offered a position at Junaluska, a girls' camp, that he could not turn down. After supervising the purchasing and preparing of food at Junaluska for a season the Kluttzs moved to Florida, where they managed a country club at Daytona Beach.

In September of last year they took over the Dixie Home warehouse cafeteria which until that time had been operating at a serious deficit. He was told that it would be next to impossible for the Cafeteria to show a profit because of its location, some several miles out of town. The last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Kluttz operated the eating place a total of 1,200 customers were counted, but only 750 of them could be served.

After that the cafeteria did not run on Sunday, because as Mr. Kluttz said, "We didn't want anybody to get mad at us."

Mr. Kluttz was born and reared in Chester where he learned the butcher trade and operated his own meat shop. The depression of the late twenties and early thirties forced him to close his shop, "broke but not bankrupt," as he put it. He then took his wife and two daughters to Florida where he worked for a large chain store.

He served as chief steward on a destroyer for three and a half years during the recent war, and tells some interesting tales of the hazards of cooking aboard ship during maneuvers and rough weather. It was during this period that he decided to become a restaurateur. Soon after his discharge he came to Clemson.

When asked why he decided to return to this campus, Mr. Kluttz said that he had been wanting to come back ever since he left in 1948. "Clemson gets in your blood," he said in an interview this week.

The building to house the "Kluttz Steak House" is located between the Book Store and the new Dixie Home Store on College Avenue. It will embody a public dining room and modern kitchen on the ground floor, and private dining hall (seats 50 persons), a large ladies' lounge, and family living quarters on the second floor. When completed, in the next week or ten days, the cafe will meet to the letter the State Board of Health specifications, and will receive an "A" rating by that board.
